

NewSpring Church Groups Guide

Practical Atheist — Week 5 — I've Got to Tell Somebody!

It is intriguing to see the number of people who show up for church wearing the colors of their favorite football team. Most people can't wait to tell other people about their great team and how they defeated their weaker opponent. Many times, those same people who are eager to talk about sports teams are reluctant to share the good news of Jesus Christ with their neighbors.

- Who was the first person to tell you about Jesus?
- When and how did you meet Jesus?
- Who are some of the people in your life that you need to tell about Jesus?
- What are some stories of life change that you have witnessed?
- What are some things that Jesus has done in your life that you can share with others?

Too often, we make excuses for not inviting people to church. Perhaps we think they might be offended if we tell them about our church. Maybe we think they already attend church somewhere. This simple rule should apply: when Jesus places someone on our heart to invite to church we should do it immediately. Not immediately obeying Jesus is sin.

Has it been a while since you were burdened for a friend or family member? Pray that God would till up the hard ground of your heart and make your heart break for what breaks His.
